DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-5, 10-14, & 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Arp (4,401,431). Arp discloses an extracorporeal blood treatment system including automated sensor and regulator modules that monitor one or more blood parameters. The blood treatment system includes a patient supplying blood to the system (seen to be equivalent to a reservoir), a pump, an oxygenator, a filter, tubing and connections, a display, and a control unit. Multiple sensors in the circuit are used for monitoring one or more parameters of the blood. The recitation that the sensor and regulating modules are “adapted to” perform a function is not a positive limitation but only requires the ability to so perform. It does not constitute a limitation in any patentable sense. In re Hutchinson, 69 USPQ 138. Therefore, it is the position of the examiner that the sensors and control system (i.e. regulating module) of Arp are capable of meeting the adapted to language.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3761

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 8, 15, 18, & 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Arp in view of Grandics et al. (QWO 96/35954). Arp discloses the invention substantially as claimed, see rejection supra, however, fails to disclose specifically that the filter has a support surface to remove heparin from the blood during treatment.

Grandics et al. discloses a filter for use in an extracorporeal circuit. The filter removes heparin from the blood during extracorporeal therapy. The filter has immobilized antithrombin thereon and the heparin in the blood is removed and the treated blood is then returned to the patient free of heparin. At the time of the invention, it would have been within the level of ordinary skill in the art to substitute the filter of Grandics in the circuit of Arp since they are equivalents insofar as they both perform the same general function, which is the removal of a substance from blood in an extracorporeal circuit.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-20 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-8, 10, 11, & 30-39 of U.S. Patent No. 6,733,471 B1. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the application claims are a broader recitation of the invention than that of the issued patent, including all of the same limitations. The claims of the application are merely a broader recitation than the claims of the patent. Since a broad interpretation of the patent claims includes the claimed invention of the instant application, if a patent was to grant on the pending claims of this application applicant would be granted an unlawful extension of protection beyond the years of the '471 patent. The claims match up as follows:

Instant Application	Patent Claims '471
6/1	1
2-5	2-5
7-9	6-8
10	11/10
11	30
12-15	31-34
16/11	30
17-20	35-39
